

Websites and Useful Links

We are hearing about engaging websites and links on a daily basis. This list was correct as at 22nd April 2020 but if you spot any errors please advise and we will amend, as appropriate. The links have been checked, some require facebook access or are hosted by youtube – as with any IT used at home we recommend you look at the resources first to gauge whether you think they are appropriate for your child. We appreciate you will have to access some facebook links via your account and as such recommend you sit with your child whilst they access the information. In some instances, you may have to join the site; we leave it to your discretion as to whether you want to join.

The list is quite long and some won't necessarily appeal to your child but we think there is something of interest for everyone. Hope it helps!

The work we publish on our class website pages relates to an overarching topic/theme and this is updated every fortnight. We appreciate some have limited access to the internet-based activities. If this is the case, we recommend your child complete the work we set fortnightly. Paper copies are available, on request, by emailing the office.

If you do have access to the internet and would like more work we recommend the newly developed BBC Bitesize lessons and clips.

The lessons and activities can be found on <https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize>. The new clips (which started on Monday) can be found by pressing the red button on your TV from 9am – 11am or alternatively they can be accessed using BBC iPlayer (<https://www.bbc.co.uk/iplayer/group/p089nk5f>).

It is important that your child keep active and to help with this we recommend <https://www.shrewsburytowninthecommunity.com/shrewsathome/>. This is a website you subscribe to initially then you will have access to games, exercises, clips – it is run and hosted by Shrewsbury Town in the Community (our school sporting partners).

Don't forget about Mathletics, Numbergym, Espresso and Languagenut. Your child should have their access passwords. If they need a reminder please contact the school office, via email, on admin@crowmoorschool.co.uk.

We will continue to signpost any sites/links we come across in our weekly newsletters.

Take care and keep safe.
